Item 2 - Material Changes

Form ADV 2 is divided into two parts: Part 2A (the "Disclosure Brochure") and Part 2B (the "Brochure Supplement"). The Disclosure Brochure provides information about a variety of topics relating to an Advisor's business practices and conflicts of interest. The Brochure Supplement provides information about Advisory Persons of Riverstone. For convenience, we have combined these documents into a single disclosure document.

Riverstone believes that communication and transparency are the foundation of its relationship with Clients and will continually strive to provide its Clients with complete and accurate information at all times. Riverstone encourages all current and prospective Clients to read this Disclosure Brochure and discuss any questions you may have with us. And of course, we always welcome your feedback.

Material Changes

There have been no material changes to the Disclosure Brochure.

Future Changes

From time to time, we may amend this Disclosure Brochure to reflect changes in our business practices, changes in regulations and routine annual updates as required by the securities regulators. This complete Disclosure Brochure or a Summary of Material Changes shall be provided to each Client annually and if a material change occurs.

At any time, you may view the current Disclosure Brochure on-line at the SEC's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with our firm name or our CRD# 130346. Item 4 - Advisory Services

A. Firm Information

Riverstone Advisors, LLC ("Riverstone" or the "Advisor") is a registered investment advisor with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and is organized as a Limited Liability Company ("LLC") under the laws of the State of Texas. Riverstone was founded in February 2004 as the next step to provide advising and investing services to clients that Leslie Lammers had been advising since 1993. Riverstone is owned by Leslie J. Lammers (President). Ms. Lammers and John A. Hanson make all investment and business decisions for Riverstone. This Disclosure Brochure provides information regarding the qualifications, business practices, and the advisory services provided by Riverstone.

The Advisor serves as a fiduciary to Clients, as defined under applicable laws and regulations. As a fiduciary, the Advisor upholds a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client and seeks to mitigate potential conflicts of interest. Our fiduciary commitment is further described in our Code of Ethics. For more information regarding our Code of Ethics, please see Item 11 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading.

B. Advisory Services Offered

Riverstone offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates and business entities (each referred to as a "Client").

Wealth Management Services

Riverstone provides customized wealth management solutions for its Clients. At the beginning of a new client relationship, Riverstone has multiple in-depth discussions with the Client about their goals, objectives and risk tolerance in order to develop a strategy for their specific portfolio. Riverstone will then construct a portfolio made up of various securities including but not limited to, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, and/or exchange-traded funds ("ETFs"). Riverstone may also utilize private placements and other types of investments to meet the needs of the Clients. The Advisor may retain existing investments the Client already owns. Riverstone periodically checks in with its Clients to evaluate if their financial situation has changed and may adjust the client's portfolio accordingly.

Riverstone will construct, implement and monitor the portfolio to ensure it meets the goals, objectives, circumstances, and risk tolerance of the Client. Each Client will have the opportunity to place reasonable restrictions on the types of investments to be held in their respective portfolio, subject to acceptance by the Advisor. Riverstone's investment strategy is primarily long-term focused, but the Advisor may buy, sell or re-allocate positions that have been held less than one year to meet the objectives of the Client or due to market conditions.

Riverstone evaluates and selects investments for inclusion in Client portfolios only after applying its internal due diligence process. Riverstone may recommend, on occasion, changing investment allocations to diversify the portfolio. Riverstone may recommend sector or asset class weightings. The Advisor may recommend employing cash positions as a possible hedge against market movement. Riverstone may recommend selling positions for reasons that include, but are not limited to, harvesting capital gains or losses, business or sector risk exposure to a specific security or class of securities, overvaluation or overweighting of the position[s] in the portfolio, change in risk tolerance of Client, generating cash to meet Client needs, or any risk deemed unacceptable for the Client's risk tolerance.

All Clients must hold their assets at a "qualified custodian". Please see Item 12 - Brokerage Practices below.

Riverstone Advisors, LLC

480 W. Mill Street, New Braunfels, TX 78130 * 3340 Peachtree Road, NE, Suite 1010, Atlanta, GA 30326

Phone: (914) 722-1700 * Fax: (404) 549-7626

For Clients who prefer that Riverstone provide investment management services but do not need a thorough review of their existing financial profile, Riverstone provides investment management services as described above without the initial financial profile review. Clients may already have an understanding of their own financial needs, goals and risk tolerance and are seeking to have Riverstone manage their assets, and may not need substantial review and analysis of their financial profile before applying a portfolio strategy.

Investment Consulting Services

Riverstone also offers consulting services to Clients seeking advisory services outside of a traditional ongoing management relationship. Clients in this category may consider engaging Riverstone for investment consulting services, pursuant to a written investment consulting agreement. Services are offered in several areas of a Client's financial situation, depending on their goals, objectives and financial situation. Generally, such consulting services will involve preparing a financial plan or rendering a financial consultation based on the Client's financial goals and objectives. This planning or consulting may encompass one or more areas of need, including, but not limited to:

Insurance Planning	Retirement Planning
Cash Flow Forecasting	Risk Management
Trust and Estate Planning	Charitable Giving
Investment Consulting	Distribution Planning
Manager Due Diligence	Tax Planning

These services may be provided on a stand-alone basis or incorporated into other services, including within a comprehensive wealth management engagement.

An investment consultation rendered to the Client will usually include general recommendations for a course of activity or specific actions to be taken by the Client. For example, recommendations may be made that the Client start or revise their investment programs, commence or alter retirement savings, establish education savings and/or charitable giving programs. Riverstone may also refer Clients to an accountant, attorney or other specialist, as appropriate for their unique situation. For certain investment consulting engagements, the Advisor may or may not provide a written summary of the Client's financial situation, observations, and recommendations. Plans or consultations are typically completed within six months of contract date, assuming all information and documents requested are provided promptly.

Investment consulting recommendations may pose a potential conflict between the interests of the Advisor and the interests of the Client. For example, a recommendation to engage the Advisor for wealth management services or to increase the level of investment assets with the Advisor would pose a conflict, as it would increase the advisory fees paid to the Advisor. Clients are not obligated to implement any recommendations made by the Advisor or maintain an ongoing relationship with the Advisor.

C. Client Account Management

Prior to engaging Riverstone to provide investment advisory services, each Client is required to enter into one or more agreements with the Advisor that define the terms, conditions, authority and responsibilities of the Advisor and the Client. These services may include:

- Investment Strategy – Riverstone, in connection with the Client, will develop an investment strategy that incorporates the Client's investment goals and objectives.
- Asset Allocation – Riverstone will develop an asset allocation that is targeted to meet the investment objectives, time horizon, financial situation and tolerance for risk for each Client.

- Portfolio Construction – Riverstone will develop a portfolio for the Client that is intended to meet the stated goals and objectives of the Client.
- Investment Management and Supervision – Riverstone will provide investment management and ongoing oversight of the Client’s investment portfolio(s).

D. Wrap Fee Programs

Riverstone does not manage or place Client assets in wrap fee programs.

E. Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2017, Riverstone manages $141,827,059 in Client assets. $ 136,763,400 is managed on a discretionary basis and $5,063,659 is managed on a non-discretionary basis. Clients may request more current information at any time by contacting the Advisor.

Item 5 - Fees and Compensation

The following paragraphs detail the fee structure and compensation methodology for services provided by the Advisor. Each Client engaging the Advisor for services described herein shall be required to enter into one or more agreements with the Advisor.

A. Fees for Advisory Services

Wealth Management Services

As noted above, wealth management services begin with an in-depth review of the Client’s financial profile, which is then implemented through ongoing investment management. There is no additional fee associated with the development of a financial plan. At the start of the management of the Client’s investments, the Advisor will begin charging wealth management fees. Wealth management fees are paid quarterly, at the beginning of each calendar quarter, pursuant to the terms of the wealth management agreement. Wealth management fees are based on the market value of assets under management at the end of the prior quarter. Wealth management fees are based on the following schedule:

Assets Under Management ($)	Annual Rate (%)
Up to $3,000,000	1.00%
$3,000,001 to $5,000,000	0.65%
Over $5,000,000	0.50%

The wealth management fee in the first quarter of service is prorated from the inception date of the account[s] to the end of the first quarter. Fees may be negotiable at the sole discretion of the Advisor. The Client’s fees will take into consideration the aggregate assets under management with Advisor. All securities held in accounts managed by Riverstone will be independently valued by the Custodian. Riverstone will not have the authority or responsibility to value portfolio securities.

The Advisor’s fee is exclusive of, and in addition to, brokerage fees, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses, which may be incurred by the Client. The Advisor does not receive any portion of these commissions, fees, and costs.

Investment Consulting Services

Riverstone offers investment consulting services for a fixed fee generally ranging from $500 to $5,000. Fees may be negotiable based on the on the nature and complexity of the services to be provided and the overall relationship with the Advisor. An estimate for total costs will be provided prior to establishing the advisory relationship.

B. Fee Billing

Wealth Management Services

Wealth management fees are calculated by Riverstone and deducted from the Client's account[s] at the Custodian. The Advisor shall send an invoice to the Custodian indicating the amount of the fees to be deducted from the Client's account[s] at the respective quarter-end date. The amount due is calculated by applying the quarterly rate (annual rate divided by 4) to the total assets under management with Riverstone at the end of each quarter. Clients will be provided with a statement, at least quarterly, from the Custodian reflecting deduction of the wealth management fee. It is the responsibility of the Client to verify the accuracy of these fees as listed on the Custodian's brokerage statement as the Custodian does not assume this responsibility. Clients provide written authorization permitting Riverstone to be paid directly from their account[s] held by the Custodian as part of the wealth management agreement and separate account forms provided by the Custodian. Clients seeking a different payment method should discuss available methods with Riverstone.

Investment Consulting Services

Financial planning fees are invoiced by the Advisor and are due upon completion of the agreed upon services.

C. Other Fees and Expenses

Clients may incur certain fees or charges imposed by third parties, other than Riverstone, in connection with investments made on behalf of the Client's account[s]. Riverstone does not receive these commissions and account fees. The Client is responsible for all custody and securities execution fees charged by the Custodian. The wealth management fee charged by Riverstone is separate and distinct from these custody and execution fees.

In addition, all fees paid to Riverstone for wealth management services are separate and distinct from the expenses charged by mutual funds and ETFs to their shareholders, if applicable. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus. These fees and expenses will generally be used to pay management fees for the funds, other fund expenses, account administration (e.g., custody, brokerage and account reporting), and a possible distribution fee.

D. Advance Payment of Fees and Termination

Wealth Management Services

Riverstone is compensated for its services in advance of the quarter in which wealth management services are rendered. Either party may terminate the wealth management agreement, at any time, by providing thirty (30) days' advance written notice to the other party. The Client may also terminate the wealth management agreement within five (5) business days of signing the Advisor's agreement at no cost to the Client. After the five-day period, the Client will incur charges for bona fide advisory services rendered to the point of termination and such fees will be due and payable by the Client. The effective date of termination will be 30 days from the date of written notification of termination, unless otherwise agreed by the parties. The Client's wealth management agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without the Client's prior consent.

Investment Consulting Services

Riverstone is compensated for its services upon completion of the engagement deliverable[s] or rendering a consultation. Either party may terminate the investment consulting agreement, at any time, by providing advance written notice to the other party. The Client may also terminate the investment consulting agreement within five (5) business days of signing the Advisor's agreement at no cost to the Client. After the five-day period, the Client will incur charges for bona fide advisory services rendered to the point of termination and such fees will be due and payable by the Client. Upon termination, the Client shall be billed for the percentage of the engagement scope completed by the Advisor. The Client's investment consulting agreement with the Advisor is non-transferable without the Client's prior consent.

E. Compensation for Sales of Securities

Riverstone does not receive any compensation for investment products or securities transactions in any Client account, other than the investment advisory fees noted above.

Item 6 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Riverstone does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on, or capital appreciation of, the assets of a client) or engage in side-by-side management.

Item 7 - Types of Clients

Riverstone offers investment advisory services to individuals, high net worth individuals, trusts, estates, and business entities. The amount of each type of Client is available on the Advisor's Form ADV Part 1A. These amounts may change over time and are updated at least annually by the Advisor. Riverstone generally requires a minimum relationship size of $750,000. Riverstone may reduce this minimum.

Item 8 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

A. Methods of Analysis

Riverstone employs a combination of fundamental and technical analysis methods in developing investment strategies for its Clients. In addition to performing our own research and analysis, Riverstone may utilize third party sources to help form opinion on investment ideas. The sources include but are not limited to other investment companies, third-party research, Internet sources, and company documents, including annual reports, prospectuses, press releases and research prepared by others.

Fundamental analysis uses economic and company specific data to evaluate investment opportunities. These criteria are generally ratios and trends that may indicate the overall strength and financial viability of the entity being analyzed. The Advisor monitors these economic indicators to determine if portfolio adjustments are appropriate.

Technical analysis relies on past market data and company trading data to determine the investment decisions made on behalf of clients. Technical analysis may involve the use of charts to identify market patterns and trends, which may be based on investor sentiment rather than the fundamentals of the company. The primary risk in using technical analysis is that spotting historical trends may not help to predict such trends in the future. Even if the trend will eventually reoccur, there is no guarantee that Riverstone will be able to accurately predict such a reoccurrence. Technical analysis is particularly helpful when starting new positions and ending existing positions.

Riverstone generally employs a long-term investment strategy for Clients, as consistent with their financial goals. Riverstone will typically hold all or a portion of a security for more than a year, but may hold for shorter periods for the purpose of rebalancing a portfolio or meeting the cash needs of Clients. At times, Riverstone may also buy and sell positions that are more short-term in nature, depending on the goals of the Client and/or the fundamentals of the security, sector or asset class.

Riverstone Advisors uses individual stocks, bonds, mutual funds, ETFs and cash to achieve client objectives. Investing in any security involves risk of loss and is something clients must consider.

B. Risk of Loss

Investing in securities has investment risks. Securities may fluctuate in value or lose value. Clients should be prepared to bear potential losses. Riverstone will assist Clients in determining an appropriate strategy based on their tolerance for risk and other factors noted above. However, there is no guarantee that a Client will meet their investment goals.

Riverstone Advisors, LLC

While the methods of analysis help the Advisor in evaluating a potential investment, it does not guarantee that the investment will increase in value. Assets meeting suitable investment criteria may lose value and may have negative investment performance.

Each Client engagement will entail a review of the Client's investment goals, financial situation, time horizon, tolerance for risk and other factors to develop an appropriate strategy for investing a Client's account. Client participation in this process, including full and accurate disclosure of requested information, is essential for the analysis of a Client's needs. The Advisor shall rely on the financial and other information provided by the Client or their designees without the duty or obligation to validate the accuracy and completeness of the provided information. It is the responsibility of the Client to inform the Advisor of any changes in financial condition, goals or other factors that may affect this analysis. Following are some of the risks associated with the Advisor's strategy:

Market Risks

The value of a Client's holdings may fluctuate in response to events specific to companies or markets, as well as economic, political, or social events in the U.S. and abroad. This risk is linked to the performance of the overall financial markets.

ETF Risks

The performance of an ETF is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the ETFs will fluctuate with the price of the underlying securities that make up the funds. In addition, ETFs have a trading risk based on the loss of cost efficiency if the ETFs are traded actively and a liquidity risk if the ETFs has a large bid-ask spread and low trading volume. The price of an ETF fluctuates based upon the market movements and may dissociate from the index being tracked by the ETF or the price of the underlying investments. An ETF purchased or sold at one point in the day may have a different price than the same ETF purchased or sold a short time later.

Mutual Fund Risks

The performance of a mutual fund is subject to market risk, including the possible loss of principal. The price of the mutual funds will fluctuate with the value of the underlying securities that make up the funds. The price of a mutual fund is typically set daily therefore a mutual fund purchased at one point in the day will typically have the same price as a mutual fund purchased later that same day.

Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Investing in securities and other investments has a risk of loss that each Client should understand and be willing to bear. Clients are reminded to discuss these risks with the Advisor.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

There are no legal, regulatory or disciplinary events involving Riverstone or any persons associated with Riverstone (our "Supervised Persons") Riverstone values the trust you place in us. As we advise all Clients, we encourage you to perform the requisite due diligence on any advisor or service provider with whom you partner. Our backgrounds are on the Investment Adviser Public Disclosure website at www.adviserinfo.sec.gov by searching with our firm name or our CRD# 130346.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Riverstone Advisors, LLC

480 W. Mill Street, New Braunfels, TX 78130 * 3340 Peachtree Road, NE, Suite 1010, Atlanta, GA 30326

Phone: (914) 722-1700 * Fax: (404) 549-7626

<https://riverstoneadvisors.com>

The sole business of Riverstone is to provide investment advisory services to its Clients. Neither Riverstone nor its Supervised Persons are involved in other business endeavors. Riverstone does not maintain any affiliations with other firms, other than contracted service providers to assist with the servicing of Client's accounts.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

A. Code of Ethics

Riverstone has implemented a Code of Ethics (the "Code") that defines our fiduciary commitment to each Client. This Code applies to all Supervised Persons. The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding our duties to you, our Client. Riverstone and its Supervised Persons owe a duty of loyalty, fairness and good faith towards each Client. It is the obligation of Riverstone's Supervised Persons to adhere not only to the specific provisions of the Code, but also to the general principles that guide the Code. The Code covers a range of topics that address employee ethics and conflicts of interest. To request a copy of our Code, please contact us at (914) 722-1700 or via email at info@riverstoneadvisors.com.

B. Personal Trading with Material Interest

Riverstone allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Riverstone does not act as principal in any transactions (buy or sell). In addition, the Advisor does not act as the general partner of a fund, or advise an investment company. Riverstone does not have a material interest in any securities traded in Client accounts.

C. Personal Trading in Same Securities as Clients

Riverstone allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients. Owning the same securities that we recommend (purchase or sell) to you presents a conflict of interest that, as fiduciaries, we must disclose to you and mitigate through policies and procedures. As noted above, we have adopted the Code to address insider trading (material non-public information controls); gifts and entertainment; outside business activities and personal securities reporting. When trading for personal accounts, Supervised Persons may have a conflict of interest if trading in the same securities. The fiduciary duty to act in the best interest of its Clients can potentially be violated if personal trades are made with more advantageous terms than Client trades, or by trading based on material non-public information. This risk is mitigated by Riverstone's requirement of personal securities held and traded by its Supervised Persons for review by the Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO") or delegate. We have also adopted written policies and procedures to detect the misuse of material, non-public information.

D. Personal Trading at Same Time as Client

While Riverstone allows our Supervised Persons to purchase or sell the same securities that may be recommended to and purchased on behalf of Clients, such trades are traded no sooner than the next business day. At no time will Riverstone, or any Supervised Person of Riverstone, transact in any security to the detriment of any Client.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

A. Recommendation of Custodian[s]

Riverstone does not have the authority to select the broker-dealer/custodian for custody and execution services. The Client will engage the broker-dealer/custodian (herein the "Custodian") to safeguard Client assets and authorize Riverstone to direct trades to this Custodian as agreed in the wealth management agreement. Further, Riverstone does not have the authority to negotiate commissions on behalf of our Clients on a trade-by-trade basis.

Riverstone Advisors, LLC

Phone: (914) 722-1700 * Fax: (404) 549-7626

<https://riverstoneadvisors.com>

Riverstone may recommend the Custodian to Clients for custody and execution services. Clients are not obligated to use the Custodian recommended by the Advisor and will not incur any extra fee or cost charged by Riverstone for using a broker-dealer/custodian not recommended by Riverstone. Riverstone may recommend the Custodian based on criteria such as, but not limited to, reasonableness of commissions charged to the Client, services made available to the Client, its reputation, and/or the location of the Custodian's offices. Riverstone will generally recommend that Clients establish their account[s] at Fidelity Clearing & Custody Solutions, a division of Fidelity Investments, Inc. (herein "Fidelity"). Fidelity serves as the Client's "qualified custodian". Riverstone maintains an institutional relationship with Fidelity, whereby the Advisor receives certain economic benefits from Fidelity as noted in Item 14 below.

Following are additional details regarding the brokerage practices of Riverstone:

1. Soft Dollars - Soft dollars are revenue programs offered by broker-dealers/custodians whereby an advisor enters into an agreement to place security trades with the broker in exchange for research and other services. Riverstone does not participate in soft dollar programs sponsored or offered by any broker-dealer/custodian. However, Riverstone does receive certain benefits from Fidelity, as noted in Item 14 below.

2. Brokerage Referrals - Riverstone does not receive any compensation from any third party in connection with the recommendation for establishing an account.

3. Directed Brokerage - All Clients are serviced on a "directed brokerage basis", where Riverstone will place trades within the established account[s] at the Custodian designated by the Client. In general, Riverstone has an obligation to seek out low transaction costs but will not be obligated to select competitive bids on individual security transactions in Client's accounts. These costs are determined by the Custodian.

B. Aggregating and Allocating Trades

The primary objective in placing orders for the purchase and sale of securities for Client accounts is to obtain the most favorable net results taking into account such factors as 1) price, 2) size of order, 3) difficulty of execution, 4) confidentiality and 5) skill required of the Custodian. Riverstone will execute its transactions through the Custodian as directed by the Client. Riverstone may aggregate orders in a block trade or trades when securities are purchased or sold through the Custodian for multiple (discretionary) accounts in the same trading day. If a block trade cannot be executed in full at the same price or time, the securities actually purchased or sold by the close of each business day must be allocated in a manner that is consistent with the initial pre-allocation or other written statement. This must be done in a way that does not consistently advantage or disadvantage any particular Client accounts.

Item 13 - Review of Accounts

A. Frequency of Reviews

Securities in Client accounts are monitored on a regular and continuous basis by Leslie Lammers and John Hanson. Formal reviews are conducted at least annually as required by the SEC. Riverstone often formally reviews client accounts more frequently.

B. Causes for Reviews

Accounts may be reviewed as a result of major changes in economic conditions, political events, known changes in the Client's financial situation, and/or large deposits or withdrawals in the Client's account[s]. The Client is encouraged to notify Riverstone if changes occur in the Client's personal financial situation that might adversely affect the Client's investment plan.

C. Review Reports

Riverstone Advisors, LLC

The Client will receive brokerage statements at least quarterly from their trustee or Custodian. These brokerage statements are sent directly from the Custodian to the Client by mail or electronically. Alternatively, the Client may establish electronic access to the Custodian's website so that the Client may view these reports and their account activity electronically/through email. Client brokerage statements include all positions, transactions and fees relating to the Client's account[s]. Riverstone also provides Clients with quarterly reports that address their holdings, allocations, performance, and state of the market.

Item 14 - Client Referrals and Other Compensation

A. Compensation Received by Riverstone

Riverstone is a fee-only advisory firm that is compensated solely by its Clients and not from any investment product provider. Riverstone does not receive commissions or other compensation from product sponsors, broker-dealers or any un-related third party. Riverstone may refer Clients to various unaffiliated, non-advisory professionals (e.g. attorneys, accountants, estate planners) to provide certain financial services necessary to meet the goals of its Clients. Likewise, Riverstone may receive non-compensated referrals of new Clients from various third-parties.

Participation in Institutional Advisor Platform

Riverstone has established an institutional relationship with Fidelity (the Custodian) to assist the Advisor in managing Client account[s]. Access to the Custodian platform is provided at no charge to the Advisor or the Client. The Advisor receives access to software and related support without cost because the Advisor renders investment management services to Clients that maintain assets at the Custodian. The software and related systems support may benefit the Advisor, but not its Clients directly. In fulfilling its duties to its Clients, the Advisor endeavors at all times to put the interests of its Clients first. Clients should be aware, however, that the receipt of economic benefits from a custodian creates a potential conflict of interest since these benefits may influence the Advisor's recommendation of this Custodian over one that does not furnish similar software, systems support, or services.

Additionally, the Advisor may receive the following benefits from Fidelity: receipt of duplicate Client confirmations and bundled duplicate statements; access to a trading desk that exclusively services its institutional participants; access to block trading which provides the ability to aggregate securities transactions and then allocate the appropriate shares to Client accounts; and access to an electronic communication network for Client order entry and account information.

B. Client Referrals from Solicitors

Riverstone does not use paid solicitors to obtain Clients.

Item 15 - Custody

Riverstone does not take possession of Client funds or securities. All Clients must place their assets with a "qualified custodian" (Please see Item 12). Clients are required to engage the Custodian to retain their funds and securities and direct Riverstone to utilize the Custodian for the Client's security transactions. Clients should review statements provided by the Custodian and compare to any reports provided by Riverstone to ensure accuracy, as the Custodian does not perform this review. For more information about custodians and brokerage practices, see Item 12 - Brokerage Practices.

There are certain instances where the Advisor is deemed to have custody of Client assets under the securities laws. This includes serving as a Trustee for certain relationships and the ability to access certain Client accounts held away from the Custodian utilizing a Client's login credentials. Riverstone provides these services on a limited basis at the specific request of the Client. To ensure the safety of Client accounts and adhere to custody requirements, the Advisor obtains an annual surprise custody examination from a qualified independent audit firm.

Additionally, if the Client gives the Advisor authority to move money from one account to another account, the Advisor may have custody of those assets. In order to avoid additional regulatory requirements in these cases, the Custodian and the Advisor have adopted safeguards to ensure that the money movements are completed in accordance with the Client's instructions.

Item 16 - Investment Discretion

Riverstone generally has discretion over the selection and amount of securities to be bought or sold in Client accounts without obtaining prior consent or approval from the Client. However, these purchases or sales may be subject to specified investment objectives, guidelines, or limitations previously set forth by the Client and agreed to by Riverstone. Discretionary authority will only be authorized upon full disclosure to the Client. The granting of such authority will be evidenced by the Client's execution of a wealth management agreement containing all applicable limitations to such authority. All discretionary trades made by Riverstone will be in accordance with each Client's investment objectives and goals.

Item 17 - Voting Client Securities

Riverstone Advisors, LLC votes the corporate proxies for clients (However, the Client shall maintain exclusive responsibility for all legal proceedings or other type events pertaining to the account assets, including, but not limited to, class action lawsuits.). Proxies are corporate ballots on which shareholders vote for the election of directors and vote on corporate events such as officer compensation, hiring of accountants, etc. The written agreement (investment contract) signed by the Client and Riverstone gives Riverstone discretion to vote these proxies.

Riverstone Advisors votes proxies for Clients in order to make our Clients' lives simpler. Clients may vote their own proxies, if they choose. This choice can be indicated in the Riverstone investment contract. Riverstone Advisors maintains a Policy and Procedure governing the voting of proxies. Clients should request a copy if they are interested.

Clients may direct the vote in any situation if they choose. They use email, mail or phone to do so. Clients may also request information on how we voted a particular proxy issue by mail, email or phone. Requests should be made to Riverstone's Chief Compliance Officer, John Hanson.

Above all, it is our fiduciary duty to vote proxies in the best interest of our Clients. For example, if a company puts forward a vote on a merger with another company, we vote in the way we believe will most improve Clients' investment return.

Item 18 - Financial Information

Neither Riverstone, nor its management, have any adverse financial situations that would reasonably impair the ability of Riverstone to meet all obligations to its Clients. Neither Riverstone, nor any of its Advisory Persons, has been subject to a bankruptcy or financial compromise. Riverstone is not required to deliver a balance sheet along with this Disclosure Brochure as the Advisor does not collect fees of $1,200 or more for services to be performed six months or more in advance.

Privacy Policy

Effective: April 18, 2018

Our Commitment to You

Riverstone Advisors, LLC ("Riverstone" or the "Advisor") is committed to safeguarding the use of personal information of our Clients (also referred to as "you" and "your") that we obtain as your Investment Advisor, as described here in our Privacy Policy ("Policy").

Our relationship with you is our most important asset. We understand that you have entrusted us with your private information, and we do everything that we can to maintain that trust. Riverstone (also referred to as "we", "our" and "us") protects the security and confidentiality of the personal information we have and implements controls to ensure that such information is used for proper business purposes in connection with the management or servicing of our relationship with you.

Riverstone does not sell your non-public personal information to anyone. Nor do we provide such information to others except for discrete and reasonable business purposes in connection with the servicing and management of our relationship with you, as discussed below.

Details of our approach to privacy and how your personal non-public information is collected and used are set forth in this Policy.

Why you need to know?

Registered Investment Advisors ("RIAs") must share some of your personal information in the course of servicing your account. Federal and State laws give you the right to limit some of this sharing and require RIAs to disclose how we collect, share, and protect your personal information.

What information do we collect from you?

Driver's license number	Date of birth
Social security or taxpayer identification number	Assets and liabilities
Name, address and phone number(s)	Income and expenses
E-mail address(es)	Investment activity
Account information (including other institutions)	Investment experience and goals

What Information do we collect from other sources?

Custody, brokerage and advisory agreements	Account applications and forms
Other advisory agreements and legal documents	Investment questionnaires and suitability documents
Transactional information with us or others	Other information needed to service account

How do we protect your information?

To safeguard your personal information from unauthorized access and use we maintain physical, procedural and electronic security measures. These include such safeguards as secure passwords, encrypted file storage and a secure office environment. Our technology vendors provide security and access control over personal information and have policies over the transmission of data. Our associates are trained on their responsibilities to protect Client’s personal information.

We require third parties that assist in providing our services to you to protect the personal information they receive from us.

How do we share your information?

An RIA shares Client personal information to effectively implement its services. In the section below, we list some reasons we may share your personal information.

Basis For Sharing	Do we share?	Can you limit?
Servicing our Clients We may share non-public personal information with non-affiliated third parties (such as administrators, brokers, custodians, regulators, credit agencies, other financial institutions) as necessary for us to provide agreed upon services to you, consistent with applicable law, including but not limited to: processing transactions; general account maintenance; responding to regulators or legal investigations; and credit reporting.	Yes	No
Marketing Purposes Riverstone does not disclose, and does not intend to disclose, personal information with non-affiliated third parties to offer you services. Certain laws may give us the right to share your personal information with financial institutions where you are a customer and where Riverstone or the client has a formal agreement with the financial institution. We will only share information for purposes of servicing your accounts, not for marketing purposes.	No	Not Shared
Authorized Users Your non-public personal information may be disclosed to you and persons that we believe to be your authorized agent(s) or representative(s).	Yes	Yes
Information About Former Clients Riverstone does not disclose and does not intend to disclose, non-public personal information to non-affiliated third parties with respect to persons who are no longer our Clients.	No	Not Shared

Changes to our Privacy Policy

We will send you a copy of this Policy annually for as long as you maintain an ongoing relationship with us.

Periodically we may revise this Policy, and will provide you with a revised policy if the changes materially alter the previous Privacy Policy. We will not, however, revise our Privacy Policy to permit the sharing of non-public personal information other than as described in this notice unless we first notify you and provide you with an opportunity to prevent the information sharing.

Any Questions?

You may ask questions or voice any concerns, as well as obtain a copy of our current Privacy Policy by contacting us at (914) 722-1700 or via email at info@riverstoneadvisors.com.
